

CHEMISTRY

Chemistry deals with the study of matter, its properties, and how matter behaves under certain conditions. Within the society, there are a variety of substances which need to be purified to obtain cleaner and improved substances before being used. Various techniques may be used to physically purify substances.

TASK:

As a student of chemistry, write an article on how one would use evaporation as a technique to purify substances.